Last Month's Contest

December Event Recap: Holiday Door Decorating Contest

December brought out the creativity at Kearney Plaza with our Holiday Door Decorating Contest, and the festive spirit did not disappoint.

Congratulations to Unit #421, our winning door, for taking home the prize for the craziest and funniest holiday display. Thank you to everyone who participated and helped make the season extra cheerful — we loved seeing your creativity shine!

Pet Of The Month

January Pet of the Month: Zoey

We're kicking off the new year by celebrating our January Pet of the Month, Zoey! This adorable sweetheart is known for her love of stuffed animals, surprise sneak attacks, and her signature move — quietly sneaking into blankets while you sleep (classic blanket monster behavior). Zoey brings all the cozy, playful energy we love, and we're so happy to welcome her as our first Pet of the Month of the year. Give Zoey some extra love when you see her around the community!

Local Feature

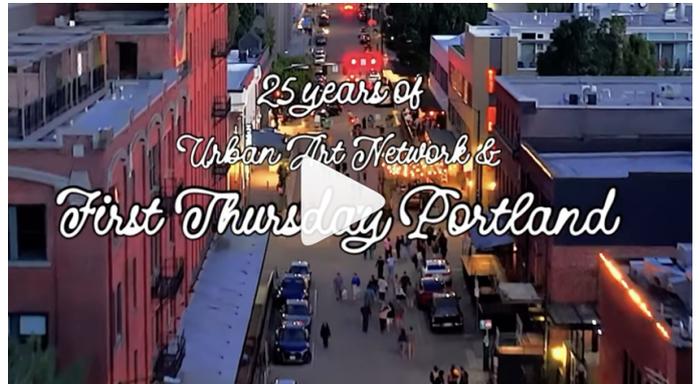

First Thursday Art Walk

Kick off the new year by supporting our local arts community. While many associate the Pearl District with the famous First Thursday tradition, the January Art Walk is a special, more intimate experience. Since New Year's Day falls on the first Thursday this year, the official galleries have moved their opening receptions to January 8th.

Bundle up and wander through the neighborhood galleries to see new exhibitions, enjoy light refreshments, and chat with local artists. It's the perfect way to get some steps in and find inspiration for your own creative resolutions.

Live Well

Small Space, Big Calm

Living at Kearney Plaza puts you in the heart of the city, but your home should be your sanctuary. As we move into the "winter blues" of January, here are three easy ways to prioritize your wellness from the comfort of your apartment:

Bring the Outside In: Boost your mood and air quality with low-maintenance indoor plants like Snake Plants or Pothos. They thrive in the indirect light of the Pacific Northwest winter and add a touch of nature to your living room.

The "One-Pot" Reset: Focus on nutrition without the kitchen clutter. Try a hearty winter vegetable stew or a quinoa bowl—preparing a large batch on Sundays makes healthy eating effortless during a busy work week.

Mindful Movement: You don't need a sprawling gym to stay active. Dedicate just 10 minutes a day to "apartment yoga" or simple bodyweight stretches on your rug. It's a great way to decompress after a day of working from home.
