What Residents are Saying

CD.

"I lived in this building for three years. There is not a day I don't think about the bay window and the one bedroom apartment I had. I moved for work and often think fondly of my time at Kearney Plaza. The layout the large bathrooms, the Walkin closet. There's something special about Kearney Plaza."

HALLOWEENTOWN

We Love Our Halloween!

It's no "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" or "Night of the Living Dead." Still, once in the 1990s, the peaceful waterfront city of St. Helens was overrun by something worse than zombies or headless horsemen — a Hollywood movie crew! Now, every Sept. 28-Oct. 31, the lovely Oregon town just 30 miles (48 km) northwest of Portland transforms into a Halloween haven. Events include costume contests, trick-or-treating through St. Helens' Old Town District, haunted tours, and scarecrows galore. Visitors will find a fun atmosphere, decorations, and photo opportunities at every turn, including carved pumpkin displays and a replica of the vintage taxi driven by Benny, the skeleton cab driver in the “Halloweentown” movie.

Pet Of The Month

ORION

Introducing our charming Pet Of The Month: Orion, an 11-year-old feline born in a litter of all-black cats, each named after constellations. Orion enjoys hunting for toys, kneading biscuits, playfully stealing items, lounging on his collection of toys like a dragon's hoard, and observing birds from the balcony. When Orion was a kitten, he suffered an ear infection that has since healed but left him with a permanent head tilt, adding to his curious appearance. Before relocating to the city, Orion slipped out of the house one Halloween night disguised as a bat and ventured around the neighborhood for trick-or-treating fun.
